

FREE Movement Lessons with your Baby (age 6 – 12 months, until crawling)

Child'Space Vienna
October 19 – 29, 2023

Touch and movement are the main ways for your baby to learn.
You can learn how to support your baby in his/her development.

Starting in April 2023, internationally renowned child development expert Ortal Goldshmid is conducting a Child'Space training program for professionals. Parents and their babies are invited to receive free, supervised Child'Space lessons within the training program in Vienna.

Babies with timely development and babies with a delayed development are invited to join.
Parents can learn how to simply and effectively support their baby in her/his development.

The Child'Space approach uses gentle, mindful touch, as well as movement and voice.
It aims at facilitating learning and developmental processes in infants and babies.
Parents can support their baby in a caring, pleasurable way. Read more about the Child'Space approach: www.feldenkraisinstitut.at/childspace

For your information:

- Child'Space takes place at Feldenkrais Institut Wien, Taborstr. 71/1a, Vienna.
- You will be with your baby at all times.
- The supervised lessons with you and your baby will be videotaped and photographed for documentation and study purposes only. This material will be studied by the participants of the training program.
